The Offagen-Onagen Ry.

Thursday last was rather a busy day on the local railway. Early in the day, some dozen freight cars jumped the track near Bissell. A few hours later, Eugene No. 812 with 2 cabooses was coming along, east of town. Having nothing to haul, she was hitting it up at a pretty good gait. The driver apparently having had extensive experience in B.C., driving to the left, and, knowing the traffic regulations of Stony Plain required the opposite, he thought he'd change over without bothering going to the switch; coming up to the main road, he did, with the result that the outfit travelled the last 100 yards on the ties. Help was phoned for, and, after some delay, the engine was able to continue its journey. Another derailment of a dozen cars near the City on Monday evening took the local sectionmen away for about six hours.

Distress In The Throat Caused Great Anxiety

Not an uncommon experience was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilton, of Shulze, N.S. "Many remedies failed," till splendid results were found in Catarrhine. I have been a most dreadful sufferer from Bronchitis, trouble and Catarrh. On damp days, I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. ## Far Away Green Fields

By E. L.

Elizabeth had a hard day. It had been dismal and cold and the furnace had been giving trouble and the babies had been cross, and as she looked discontentedly out at the snow-clad prairie, stretching away to the horizon, she made up her mind, as women sometimes will, that she and John and the babies should seek a warmer clime. What was the use of living in a place, quoth she to herself, where it was so cold and miserable for such a great part of the year and where the women and children were of necessity cooped up in the house all the time, and where, chief aggravation, they had to spend so much money on coal. No wonder, she thought, that so many people left this God-forsaken spot and went away to British Columbia, the Southern States where in the sunlight and the flowers life must be worth while.

And while she undressed the babies she still called them the babies although Harold was two and Winifred nearly four, ways and means of getting out of the cold prairie country passed continuously through her mind. Of course she knew she would miss her old friends, but then thought she, other people moved and they had to leave their friends and seemed quite contented to do so. Elizabeth did not take into consideration the fact that she clung to her old ways and her old associations more than most people and forgot that the prettiest scene in the world was always more enjoyable for her if she could contemplate it surrounded by those she loved. No, like so many people who are guided mainly by impulse she did not go into the details at all. She decided that she hated this cold, hard snow-bound country

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How It May be Overcome—All Mothers Interested.

Toronto, Ont.—"I have suffered since I was a school girl with pain in my left side, and it was not until I was grown up that I learned the cause, growing worse each year until I was run down. I was so weak that I was unable to do any work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines, but was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to perform an operation, but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps, and feel as if I had started anew. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."—Mrs. H. A. Gosses, 14 Rockvale Ave., Toronto.

Those who are troubled as Mrs. Gosses was should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Their letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

and that she wanted to live where it was softer, more pleasant and beautiful. By the time she had kissed the babies "good-night" she had mentally persuaded her husband to give up his position, sell their home and, in fancy, she was sitting on the train with the children bound for the "sunny south."

As luck would have it John came home from the office somewhat dispirited. Everything had gone wrong there on that bitterly cold day; there had been misunderstandings with the office force, a scene with the boss, and an aggravating story of conscientious and unappreciated effort, so that when Elizabeth unfolded her plan to him of getting out and hiding themselves away in a place which her fancy began to paint as a veritable Utopia, he lent a ready ear and said: "All right, I'll put the house in Green's hands tomorrow for sale and if we get our price, we'll get out. I'll write to some firm where I might get a job and tell that sucker," meaning his boss, "to get someone else to handle his job!"

It all worked like a charm. They were able to sell their house at a splendid figure, more than they had hoped for, and just when they were rejoicing over this piece of good fortune John received a very pleasing reply to one of his letters of application, offering him a good position in a small town in one of the southern States. Elizabeth was delighted, and even when they sold their furniture hardly felt a qualm, so pleased did she imagine she was to get away from the snow and cold of the prairie. "It was only when her friends began to look sad and when her mother shook her head sorrowfully that she felt any remorse, but she tried to cheer her mother up by saying: "Well, mother, if it's nice there, perhaps you could come too!" The lady shook her head and remarked:

"I am getting too old to transplant now. Elizabeth. I came to this prairie country many and many a year ago from dear old Scotland which is beautiful enough, ye know, but I have gotten used to the ice and the snow and the wonder of the prairie with its golden grain in the summer after its travail of the winter months, and we have prospered here. Na, na, I wouldn't like to change again. The prairie with all her hardships has been a friend to me and mine and I'm thinkin' I'll be buried here."

Elizabeth knew the story of her parents' immigration to the prairie country, how they had come with nothing and how they had worked and striven and saved. For years there had seemed little reward for their efforts, but at last they came into their own and from poverty had gained comfort and a real competence in their life's years, and a monument a little doubt crept into her mind as to the wisdom of her plan and then she remembered a picture of the beautiful country to which they were going, which had been sent to her, as she had envisioned the children, Harold and Winnie gambolling amidst the flowers and the roses, she banished all regrets.

When John and Elizabeth arrived in Maryland, the roses were in full bloom. The air was hot and the atmosphere somewhat heavy, but to the Elizabeth had no mention. She had determined to like her new surroundings. Then the little prairie bred children began to wilt in the heat and John looked paler and paler as the days went by. Elizabeth, though a sociable little soul enough, found her own folks was shy and distant with strangers and the southern methods did not appeal to her harder notions and so she was left very much alone. She, Elizabeth, who had been the centre of her little community at home!

"Mamma," said Harold one sunny day in July, when the bees hummed amidst the flowers and the grapes hung heavy on the vines which climbed about the house, "My head aches and my tummy hurts, I would like to see my Gámma." The usually bright little fellow stretched himself quietly on the couch in the sitting room, Elizabeth felt a pang of dread as she looked at his heavy eyes and pale little face. He had never been sick at home. She glanced quickly at Winnie and thought the child seemed dull too. Was this to be the result of leaving her home and friends so that they might play in the sunshine? She asked herself. Was she to look either or both of her children? Her heart cried out in protest as she flew to the telephone and called a doctor.

Both the children were very very ill, and the doctor told Elizabeth and John that the climate did not agree with them. John, too, had an illness and Elizabeth felt herself drooping and languid, but she felt she dare not let herself go for the sake of the others and many were the anxious pleading prayers she prayed that they all might be spared to return home again. She was so tired and so lone amidst all the beauty and languor of the south, and actually longed for the snow bound wintry streets of her own little prairie town and did not feel that she cared how much coal they had to burn, if only she could feel the invigorating frost bitten breezes again, which she felt put new life and vigor and ambition into people.

So John wrote to his old cranky "boss," and received a letter from him in reply which brought tears to both their eyes as Elizabeth and he read it. It said that the boss was only too glad to have him back and promised him an advancement in the very near future, and hinted, wisely, too, that for a young man there were no better opportunities than in the prairie country.

And six months from the time they left the little town they returned. They had spent a great deal of money and the babies had suffered natch, but Elizabeth and John had learned a wonderful lesson regarding distant green fields which seem so beautiful in most of our lives, at some time or other, and which prove merely a nightmare after all.

And they settled down to make the best of their lives on the prairie, with its cold, its snow, its hardships, for they had found that there were sufficient compensations to them to make up for the whole of the sunny south-land.

Summer Storage of Coal.

On the subject of storage of domestic coal during the summer it has been usual in England when coal was stored without shelter, that a wall was built of coal blocks around the central pile, and a coat of whitewash applied over all; and that this had the effect of preserving the coal from the action of the weather.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Until expelled and the system cleared of them, the child cannot regain its health. ## Merchants Bank Officials Express Tempered Optimism Regarding Business Situation

President and General Manager Review the Canadian Business Situation With Much Hope—Financial Position of the Bank an Exceptionally Strong One—Crop Outlook Encouraging.

At the annual meeting of the Merchants Bank of Canada, the various reports which were presented showed that this institution occupies a commanding position in Canadian financial affairs. The addresses of the President, Sir Montagu Allan, and the General Manager, Mr. D. Macarow, were concise statements of present day conditions and contained an optimistic survey of the future. These reports showed that every department of the bank is in a most excellent condition, and would indicate that the bank is rapidly increasing the sphere of its influence in every avenue of trade and commerce at home and abroad.

The President's Address.

Sir Montagu Allan in part said: "The general depression in business, felt to a greater or lesser degree in every country in the world, has affected the business of the bank to some extent, but we hope the low point of depression has been passed, and that there will soon be a change for the better. The coal strike in England which will no doubt result in the loss of a great deal of trade, and the unrest and discontent which seems to prevail in nearly all the countries of Europe, give rise to serious financial problems for a long time, but no man in this country who is strong and healthy, can afford to be a pessimist for any length of time. The known and undeveloped resources are sufficient to ensure future prosperity."

New Issue of Stock.

"As mentioned in last year's report a further issue of $2,000,000 of new stock was made, making the paid-up capital of the bank $105,000,000, and by the transfer of the premium on the new stock to the rest account, the rest now stands at $9,450,000."

"The shareholders of the bank now number 2,997, as against 2,622 in 1920, being an increase of 375 during the year."

Current loans and discounts stand at $109,181,000, as against $113,198,000 last year. It will be seen, therefore, that this bank continues to extend its ample share of assistance to the industries of the country.

General Manager is Optimistic.

Following the president's concise yet comprehensive review of the situation, as reflected in the year's statements, said Mr. Macarow, there is little left for me to add beyond, perhaps, a word or two by way of amplification.

It will be observed that in comparison with last year's figures our total assets show a shrinkage of about $7,000,000, or, roughly, 3½ per cent, which, in view of all the surrounding circumstances must be regarded as a satisfactory showing, the liquid position being well maintained the while.

The trend of our interest-bearing deposits for the same period has been steadily upward, an increase in that department of about $7,000,000 being shown, but this gain has been totally offset by the decline in the total ordinary deposits. A year ago, however, under the heading of demand deposits, a sum of about $8,000,000 stood to the credit of the Government in connection with Victory Loan payments. This amount, which, of course, was of purely temporary nature, was withdrawn during the year so that, after making allowance for it, the total deposits and total assets about held their own, a satisfactory achievement we have no doubt you will agree.

Crop Reports Are Promising.

Crop conditions throughout the country are at the present moment exceptionally promising. It may be said that as to general conditions it will be one of tempered optimism, having a due comprehension of the many difficulties which require to be met but having, at the same time, a proper appreciation of the actual and potential riches of this country.

There are indications that the monetary position, broadly speaking, is less stringent and that the general liquidity of credit now in evidence is continuing to develop further.

Altogether, and in word, it is not difficult to be an optimist as to the future of "Canada Unlimited," to borrow the apt expression recently used by an eminent Canadian.

The Board of Directors was re-elected, with Sir H. Montagu Allan as President, and F. Howard Wilton as Vice-President.

Saskatchewan Offered German Airplane

Souvenir From Canada Air Board Could Be Used.

A German airplane, to be added to the Saskatchewan war souvenirs or to be available for flights, is the offer made by the Canada Air Board to the Saskatchewan Branch of the Canadian Air Force Association.

The type of machine which would be donated has not been specified, but it is understood that it would be airworthy and not merely something to be put in a hanger and left to be looked at. At present the only stumbling block to accepting the board's offer is the payment of the freight, estimated at about $200.

Parents, Attention!

The attention of parents
having children in Grades 8, 9, or 10 is drawn to the results of the tests published in The Sun of June 9th. These marks will give some idea as to the standing of the pupils in these grades. The time for final examinations is rapidly drawing near; in fact, it is here, as they begin Friday, June 17. Pupils who are writing this year need all the time possible for review
work, and parents are urged to see that their children do a reasonable amount of studying for their examinations
next week.

If your child is near the top of the list, your hearty co-operation is asked, in order that he or she may remain
there, and show the best possible results in the final work.
As there are no report cards to show results month by month, I have taken this method of bringing the work of the pupils to the notice of parents.

If you are interested in the progress of your child, kindly look these matters over and give them consideration. Any matter in which the teacher can be of help to the parent will be a pleasure, and you have only to speak to him and anything that can be done will be undertaken.

Our Duffield Letter.

With reference to our last shipment of hogs and cattle, it was a pleasure to find that all the hogs were graded as selects. This is especially so, as the writer found almost every other shipment that he came in contact with were heavily docked; and reduced in grading.

The present grading by the packers is as follows—
Selects, 120 to 220 lbs. . . . . Top price
Lights, 120 down . . . . . 3c cut
Light heavies 220 to 250 . . . . . 1c cut Medium heavies 250-300 . . . . . 2c cut
Extra heavies, 300 up . . . . . 3c cut Smooth sows . . . . . 4c cut
Rough sows . . . . . 6c cut Stage . . . . . 6c cut Piggy sows . . . . . 6c cut Cripples . . . . . 3c cut

Now, it seems necessary that the various U.F.A. locals should immediately take up this question of dockage with the Central Office and pass resolutions about it, and for this reason: When hogs were 24c lb. there was no higher cut for sows and stags, and the cut then meant 12 1-2
p.c. and 25 p.c. respectively;
but on present prices of 10c
for selects it means 30 p.c.
and 60 p.c. respectively.

Should hogs drop to 7c lb.
it would mean that stags and rough sows would bring 1c only per pound; and if the shipper had not paid the freight, he would probably be called upon to give a cash donation to the packing plant
in addition to giving them his hogs, to pay for the shortage in the price covering the freight and expense.

The farmers have been so repeatedly advised by the various governments and the packing plants to raise more hogs, that one is rather surprised to find the packing plants making such an unjustifiable dockage.
The buyers for the plants seem to recognize that it is a straight steal; but as it is legal they can get away with it.

It is enough to make a man advise the farmers, instead of raising more hogs to raise a regiment! If the farmers don't raise Cain, the packers may raise the dockage!

With regard to the extremely light hogs that are finding such favor with the packers, one farmer in the Stony Plain district suggests that as he is penalised for feeding his hogs decently, he thinks he will ship them after they are weaned.

To prevent the continued robbery on the sows and stags which the present dockage represents, it is up to our locality to start the ball rolling in the shape of protest, as we are the least able to stand our small margin of returns disappearing altogether.

On behalf of our local, I remain,

Yours faithfully,
W. M. BEST.
Duffield, June 8, 1921.

Feeding Steers.

The following instructive article on feeding cattle is from the pen of Supt. McMillan, of the local Demonstration Farm, and should prove useful to all who feed cattle
for market—

The car of 20 steers which were fed at the Demonstration Farm from April 20 to May 26, gained in weight 4,110 lbs., an average of nearly 206 lbs. each. They were fed in open stackyard, and consumed—

4,860 lbs. Oats,
3,985 lbs. Barley,
7,600 lbs. Hay,
17,550 lbs. Ensilage; mostly sunflowers in silage.
10,000 lbs. Cut green oat sheaves.
35 lbs. Salt.

The labor required for unloading, feeding and re-loading was about 75 hours, or 2 hours daily.
To grind the grain, 1 man about 20 hours; and to cut the oat sheaves, 3 men for half a day.

Times Have Changed.

Canada's exports seem to be finding new markets judging from the following item culled from The Melanesian Argus:

"Bakembrown picked his teeth solemnly with a splinter from his first wife's third rib, stuck it back in his hair, and lapsed lulled into a wistful noonday dream of fat missionary and square face. Bakembrown deplored modern progress and the substitution of cold salmon for hot Baptist. Everything was going wrong with Papua. The high cost of wives was daily menacing his domestic bliss, and he found mackinaw pants, though dignified, more oppressive than a G string—"

"In the good old days Bakembrown did no heavy labor except thrash his wives in the taro patch. But now progress had invaded the land of Papua, and Mr Bakembrown in order to keep up with the Sable Joneses must either do real work for real hours every day or else forego the joys of a red umbrella and a condemned Scotch kilt on Sundays.

"A gong rolled its sonorous summons from the copra sheds. Bakembrown rose to his feet and slouched lazily to the scene of his afternoon's toil. Ramming a generous chew of areca nut, quicklime and pepper leaves into his left cheek and a hot clay pipe into the cartilage of his right ear, he cranked his steel devil devil, mounted its iron seat, and dropping his plow rolled rapidly down the sunlit side of coconut palms. "He did not know him by name but as he traveled he cursed the inventor of the Fordson until the seventh generation of those who bore him.

"Sic tempora mutantur."

Strong Plea Is Made For Peace Of The World

President Harding Speaks of High Ideals of Canada and the United States, Following Address of Hon. N. W. Rowell.

Washington. — President Harding delivering a commencement address at the American University here, found the subject of world peace occupying so prominent a place on the programme that he was prompted to depart from his prepared manuscript and declare for the preservation of peace by sovereign states without the interference of a world "superpower."

The President's remarks followed an address by Hon. N. W. Rowell, of Canada, who suggested that the best contribution North America could make to civilization was "for men on this side of the water to stand behind the movement for peaceful settlement of international disputes."

"I do not think I could let the occasion pass," said the President, "without giving assent to many of the appropriate and appealing things just uttered by Mr. Rowell. I liked his expression that American and Canadian ideals are in common and when he spoke about the North American contribution to present day civilization and to the world, it occurred to me that the example of the two great people living side by side in peace, in confidence and in mutual understanding, is about the finest contribution that two nations could give to the world.

"I have said on many occasions that if all the nations of the earth were as honest and unselfish as our republic, there never would be another war. I will revise it today and say that if all the nations of the earth are as unselfish and devoted to their ideals as the United States and Canada there never will be another war."

"But if I may say without a discordant note—for there is none in my heart—I call attention to the fact that the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada have dwelt side by side and settled their controversies satisfactorily without resort to a super-power, but by the exercise of the sovereignty of free people at one-half penny a bucket, we can commit civilization to abiding righteousness and everlasting justice and inspire them with our example, we will have made a long stride toward the peace of the world craves."

Working For Better Dairying

Percy E. Reed, Dairy Commissioner for Saskatchewan.

Western Crop Conditions Continue Favorable

Winnipeg.—There has been another week of almost perfect weather conditions with rains very general over the whole of the three provinces. Insect damage in the shape of cutworms and grasshoppers is still spoken of in several points. The cutworm damage is confined largely to Alberta with one small outbreak reported from Western Saskatchewan. As regards the grasshopper menace, all provinces speak of the pests, but the same reports say that all interested parties are on the job of combating them.

Indians Sell Standing Timber

Redskins Will Become Wealthy Through Big Deal.

Superior, Wis.—Contracts with Chippewa Indians of the Net Lake, Minn., reservation have been signed by the Northwestern Paper Company of Colquet, Minn., whereby the company will pay them approximately $500,000 for 25,000,000 ft. of 30,000,000 feet of saw timber and pulpwood in the vicinity of Net Lake.

The deal marks the sale of the last large tract of standing timber in the Lake Superior district owned by Indians. Some of the Indians will receive as high as $10,000 and $15,000 for timber on an 80-acre allotment.

From pauper, many of the redskins have become wealthy. The Indians are among the most primitive in the north woods and what they will do with their newly acquired fortunes is causing Government agents much concern.

Prevent Confiscation In Russia.

Riga.—A Moscow despatch announces that a decree is being prepared to prevent further confiscation of money from private persons, except by court trial. Another decree provides that anyone arrested must be given the reason for this within 24 hours and, if a member of a trade union, may be released if the union vouches for him.

Admiral Sims' London Speech.

Washington.—Secretary of the Navy Denby has instructed Rear-Admiral Sims to advise the Navy Department immediately by cable as to whether he was correctly quoted in press accounts of an address he made to the English-speaking Union at a luncheon in London, June 7.

Would Unseat De Valera

London.—Practical action has been instituted, says the Belfast correspondent of the Evening News with the view to making void the election of Eamon de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, as a member of the new Ulster Parliament, on the ground that he is an alien. A leading firm of Belfast lawyers, according to the correspondent, has been engaged to investigate De Valera's antecedents and already steps are afoot for collection of evidence in the United States and elsewhere, especially from De Valera's speeches on the subject.

True Bear Stories

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

"Well he realized that if this shot was not a fatal one his chances were slim, still he went on with dauntless courage, though as he told me his bear beat a little faster than usual. At last he noted a huge dead spruce tree fallen across the track, and stopping and studying the situation he felt convinced that Mr. Bear was either concealed behind this or very close to it. Creeping up to within a few feet of the tree, full cocking his smooth bore gun, he broke a dry stick sharply and on the instant over the tree came the grizzly, mane bristling like an angry dog, mouth wide open with huge fangs exposed, growling savagely he charged right at Robert; he, waiting until the bear was so close the powder burnt his flesh, shot him right through the brain and killed him instantly. Robert came beside his victim that night and carefully skinned him, but like so many of his kind the bear was in poor shape, scars and cuts from many fights, also traces of several old bullet wounds. He was very thin and, as Robert quietly expressed himself, mighty hard chewing."

The inroad of the grizzly into our country caused much excitement amongst the Indian as their huge claws are much coveted by the young warriors as signs of their prowess in hunting. Old Kinsino, however, was the only one who had a necklace of these and it was exciting enough to hear him tell of his fights with them when on buffalo hunting and horse stealing excursions to the Great Plains.

In my own case there was food for thought as most of the winter on trips to Indians I was sleeping out and invariably alone, hardly ever carried fire arms and would certes have been a easy prey for a wandering grizzly.

It was the fifth night out after a trip on my homeward journey, with a game little mare named Nellie who was a very good description. I had a flat sled with a bulky load of furs; the weather was intensely cold, in February, I think, and I had selected a camping place somewhat earlier than usual, this (in the middle of a field of dry trees in the center) near at hand was a dry hay-swamp well sheltered by scrub and timber and in this I tethered my pony to a green pole about the size of a fence rail, noticing the centre slightly so that the tie would not slip; she could drag him out of the swamp and keep herself warm by pawing the snow for the fresher Nelly, we have about forty miles to make tomorrow and we must start early if we intend reaching home. I think I got up at half past two. I will give a little tickler and back to camp I went. My large fire had burnt down to glowing coals so I at once made up my bed and a description of this may interest readers.

The snow had been well cleaned off and on the ground I spread five willows (there being no spruce), over this came a huge armful of hay cut with my sheath knife in the swamp, and there is nothing warmer to sleep on on this my deer skin, killed late with the winter hair on and only scraped, not tanned as one would feel the lumps below; this is laid out up so that you lay against the I do not slip off. For covering a 3 1/2 point Hudsons Bay blanket, always white, as they are so much warmer than colored blankets, over this my rabbit skin robe and over all my duck sled wrapper which protects the bedding from any stray sparks. The fire goes out, but no matter how low the thermometer goes down, and it must have been 40 below zero that night, one can sleep warm and comfortable.

Covering up my head as is customary and necessary when exposed to such low temperatures I was soon fast asleep, and after some hours sound repose I was awakened by a tug at my bedding. "Was I dreaming?" No, I could both feel and hear the animal moving. My thoughts flew back to the grizzly bear, the only weapon I had was a light axe and for the life of me I could not recollect just where I had placed this over night. Well, I waltz up against it and could either feel or imagine the hot breath of the brute, so summoning up all my resolution I threw the bedding back and there was Nellie's white little head within a foot of my own. Such a relief. Looking at my watch it was twenty minutes to three, so at once rose with the blankets gracefully draped round me and made on a huge fire. My little mare did enjoy it as I stripped her blanket off, it being covered with frost, and she, carefully stepping, would turn first one side and then the other to the heat. I found on examination that she was fast gathered to the pole and wondered how she could have dragged it in through the narrow path I had cut to the swamp. On looking at the track I decided that when the pole would catch she had nosed it straight again and continued doing this until her lie allowed her to reach my camp. At breakfast, which always shared with her, she being very fond of both bread and sugar, I made a promise, and it was that I would never part with her, and when she got beyond work she would be pensioned off. This in due time happened and she passed a serene old age surrounded by her off-spring, some of whom can be seen driving into Melfort today, handsome enough, but I doubt if any could show the same lion hardiness and courage which little Nellie proved on many a long trip.

African Demands

British Justice

Chief Asks Privy Council For Ownership Rights to Land.

London.—A West African chief attended in state, the meeting of the Privy Council, and asserted his rights of ownership to 250 acres of land in Lagos, taken by the Colonial Government there for public purposes. His private secretary carried a staff sent by the Prince of Lagos to identify the apparent owner. This staff was an inscription certifying that it had been presented to the prince's grandfather by the British Government as a token of appreciation of assistance rendered the British in suppressing the slave trade and protecting missionaries.

The appeal of the chief was adjudged.

German Bank Prosperous

Large Financial Institution of Berlin Increases Capital.

Berlin.—Announcement of a capital increase of 90,000,000 marks is being made by the Dresdner Bank, one of Greater Berlin's largest financial institutions. This makes the capital of the bank 300,000,000 marks. The bank endorsed the $200,000,000 worth of treasury notes recently turned over to the allied reparations commission.

Mutiny of Chinese Troops

Attempt to Check Opium Smuggling Caused Uprising.

Hankow, China.—Mutinous Chinese troops have looted and partially burned Ichang, a treaty port 156 miles northwest of here, for the second time in six months, according to official reports reaching Hankow.

British, United States and Japanese gunboats have been despatched to Ichang.

Consular reports indicate that attempts to check troops in reported opium smuggling operations caused the uprising.

Casualties have not been determined, but are expected to exceed those of the November mutiny at Ichang when sixty were killed and two million dollars in property destroyed.

The Coal Shortage in Britain

To Meet Situation National Kitchen Sold Hot Water to the Working People.

Hull, Eng.—The shortage of coal has been so serious here during the strike of miners that the people were unable to obtain hot water. To meet this situation, the National Kitchen, which happened to have a supply of coal, sold hot water to the working people at one-half penny a bucket.

The shortage of coal also produced a shortage of ice as it handicapped the artificial ice plants. To obviate this, trawlers were sent to Holland to bring coal which they exchanged here for ice.

Immigrants Barred

German, Austrian and Turk Tourists Can Enter Canada.

Ottawa.—The Department of Immigration and Colonization says that tourists do not require passports as a condition of entry from Canada to the U.S. or for the return journey.

Immigrants coming to Canada to work or reside from Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey, are debarré. The ban does not apply to persons coming to Canada from these countries when belonging to the non-immigrant classes.

To Foster Cotton Growing

Grant For Industry Within the Empire Is To Be Increased.

Manchester, Eng.—Winston Spencer Churchill, colonial secretary, addressing the British Cotton Growing Association, announced that it was the Government's intention to devote £1,000,000, to foster cotton growing in the British Empire instead of £50,000 yearly for five years, as formerly promised.

Mr. Churchill said that although much had been achieved in cotton growing in the Empire, it little compared with what might be done. Referring to Egyptian cotton, he declared it to be superior in quality and only second in quantity to that obtained from the United States.

Prices Must Come Down.

New York.—Prices in the United States must either come down or those in Europe must go up to meet them if the economic situation in this country is to be settled, Mark Sheldon, Australian commissioner to the U.S., declared at a farewell dinner given him by a session of foreign press correspondents. Until this adjustment has taken place, he said, there should be no resumption of the enormous prosperity the U.S. has enjoyed.

Chemist Says He Can Make Gold

Has Also Solved Problem of Making Other Metals.

New York.—Dr. Charles Branson Davis, of this city, in a paper which he has just submitted to Engineering Foundation, claims to have solved the problem of manufacturing gold. He declares he has already successfully demonstrated the possibility of making gold and other chemical elements, such as silver, platinum and copper, by transmutation of a common element. He has shown samples of the metals he claims to have made to members of the Engineering Foundation and has requested that body to investigate his claims and his methods.

Anti-Cigarette Law In Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Utah's anti-cigarette law, passed by the last Legislature, is now effective. ## Retailatory Duty On Lumber.

Washington.—The ways and means committee of the House decided to include in the Permanent Tariff Bill a duty on lumber similar to that imposed by Canada upon lumber sent to the Dominion from the United States. ### Unveiling a Tablet.

A memorial tablet in the form of a bronze plaque on which appear the names of all the members of their staff who enlisted from this point, has been received by the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The tablet will be hung upon the walls of the banking office, the purpose being not only to commemorate those members who enlisted from the local branch, but to stand as a memorial to the 1701 members of the staff who undertook military duty.

A cordial invitation is extended by the manager and staff of the local bank to their friends and customers to be present on the afternoon of Friday, 17th June, at 4 o'clock, at which time it is intended that the ceremony take place.

All in Favor.

At the annual meeting of the Oxford County (Ont.) Medical Association, a resolution was introduced, that no prescriptions for liquor be issued except to patients in bed.

Spruce Grove M. D.

A good crowd of ratepayers was present, Thursday last, in Spruce Grove, at the inaugural meeting of the newly-elected M. D. Councilors.

Councillor Short was elected Reeve, and Mr Pinchbeck was appointed Secretary-Treas. for a month.

A number of accounts were passed and ordered paid. A bill from a Stony Plain carpenter, for the labor on the Municipal Hall, was laid on the table.

Great interest was taken, at the opening of the proceedings, by the spectators, with the expectation there would be some slight excitement at the inaugural. One ex-Councillor began an address on current topics, but was promptly squelched, after which the crowd dwindled away.

It is expected that the question of drainage in certain parts of the M. D. will come up for discussion at the next meeting. This will apply to places where the roads were under water in wet seasons. Most of the Councillors and all good road makers realize that the time to prepare the roads for the rainy periods, is a season like the present.
